Subj: HAPPY ST. PADDY'S DAY!!!

The attached item is from Ric Vetter.

Everybody, please copy the above addresses and save for easy sending of things to all the Animals. I keep them on a file on my desktop so all I have to do is select, copy and paste into the address box. I don't know who's getting stuff and who's not. Unless you have special private, personal communications, how about including everybody in your e-mail lists for ha-ha's and inspirational things? It doesn't matter whether we all knew each other in Nam; we all lived in the Den, were in the same Air Force and got shot at by the same VC Charlie, and that's plenty enough for the brotherhood we can share now. (And remember, the Statute of Limitations is up so no grudges from Nam are valid now. This also goes for assorted crimes and misdemeanors, including failure to bring in the new water bottle when it was your turn and you didn't do it, so somebody else had to do it for you and they always got mad and called you bad names---not that I would know anything about that.)

To refresh memories, here is the list of Animal Den residents with present towns, and duties and dates of arrival-departure in Nam (please check for accuracy and give me any corrections):
