A SOLEMN CHRISTMAS MESSAGE TO ALL ANIMALS

Just from my own calendar and personal religious observances, we are into a busy month (Advent, Bacchanal, Saturnalia, Christmas Eve, Druid Bringing in of Greens and Human Sacrifice Fertility Rite out at the big circle of rocks (think Stonehenge), Christmas Day, Boxing Day, Twelve Days of leaping lords, ladies, servants, birds, gold rings, pears, lizards, and God knows what else, and finally Twelfth Night with play by W. Shakespeare, and Epiphany, and Old Christmas, which I guess starts the part from Boxing Day to the end all over again), so I want to get an early wish off to the Hut in case I trip up and get lost among the events of the season, or my Druid buddies decide to honor me as Sacrifice of the Year.

Actually, I'll just disregard all above events and join my frogs out on the lake in a hearty "MERRY JUG-O-RUM" to all of you! (Mine is right here beside me.)

The times around here are quiet; trying to get some Christmas stuff done, but not making much progress it seems. Hope all are well and best wishes to all!

Joe
